NEWS SUMMARY.

The French yellow book on the Fashoda affair shows that Lord Salisbury has not, as the English public has supposed, refused to entertain any proposition except for the unconditional evacuation of Fashoda by the French. A representative of the French foreign office is on his way to London offering proposals for the conditional withdrawal of Maj. Marchand.

A quorum of Cuban delegates has reached Santa Cruz del Sur, and the first meeting, which will be devoted to preliminaries, will be held this week. It is likely that an adjournment will then be taken to Baradero, near Havana. The principal work will be the selection of a commission to settle matters arising in connection with American occupation.

The grab game by the Spaniards extends all over Cuba. Spanish army rations are being sold at any price obtainable, injuring legitimate trade. Many Spanish soldiers are deserting to the insurgents. Others are being mustered out in order that they may remain on the island. Army scandals and lack of pay are the principal causes.

The peace cross on the site of the Episcopal Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul was unveiled on the summit of Mount St. Albans, near Washington Thursday, in the presence of President McKinley and other distinguished men.

A meeting of British commercial men at Manila, who have $200,000,000 of capital lying idle because of the war, resulted in an appeal to the British government to endeavor to hasten a settlement of pending issues.

Washington has not yet replied to the cable appeal of the American commissioners at Havana for power to back up their protests against Blanco's continued sale and removal of public property.

Druggists will say they sell more Plantation Chill Cure than all others.

WAR CLOUDS GATHERING.

England Notifies France That Fashoda Must Be Evacuated Without Further Delay.

French Papers Still Claim That the Trouble Will Be Settled Without War—Minister of War Resigns.

London, Oct. 25.—The situation today is more warlike than ever. Lord Salisbury in his reply to the French yellow book tells France that all French forces must be withdrawn from Fashoda immediately. The market today was fearfully excited and all sorts of war rumors were numerous.

Battleships are being loaded with supplies for battle and for long cruises. Naval officers are reporting for duty and as fast as possible the British fleets are being gotten ready for service.

FRANCE IS HOPEFUL.

Paris, Oct. 25.—Despite the gravity of the situation the leading Paris papers claim that France will settle the Fashoda matter satisfactorily to all concerned without a recourse to arms.

Gen. Chenevix resigned as minister of war this afternoon. This is most significant as it indicates that the French cabinet is unable to agree on a policy to pursue.

SICKNESS IN SCHOOL.

Several of the Teachers Ill Yesterday—Pupils Ill.

The average attendance in the public schools continues good, but yesterday five of the teachers were out on account of illness. These were Misses White, Hand and Parker, who have been ill for some little time, and Prof. Norvell and Miss Murray. The latter are now back again.

Supt. McBroon reports considerable sickness among the pupils, some of which is on account of there being no fires a week or two ago, when the heaters were being repaired.

The rain has had a very bad effect on builders, and stopped the sewer work, as well as the work on any of the houses in course of construction. The work on the First Baptist church, however, is all inside work, and is progressing nicely. The foundation for the new Catholic church is about completed, and will be allowed to settle during the winter.

SOLD TWO FRANCHISES.

One Sold to the Kentucky Electric Telephone Co. for $100; the Other to the American Co. for $15.

Bidding Was Slow—East Tennessee Co. Did Not Want Any of It—One Bid Will Probably Be Rejected.

This forenoon at 10 o'clock, Mayor Lang offered for sale at the door of the city court room three telephone franchises, in pursuance of the ordinance adopted by the council on the 23d of last month.

There was quite a crowd present when the ordinance was read by City Clerk Patterson. At the conclusion of the reading, the clerk was ordered by the mayor to offer for sale the three franchises, and the first bid was $10 for the first franchise. This was increased to $15 by Mr. Booth, of the American Telephone Co., and it was closed in the name of that company for that amount.

The next franchise was sold, and Mr. Henry Biederman, who claimed to represent the Kentucky Electric Telephone Company, secured it by a bid of $100.

Secretary Hunter, of the East Tennessee Telephone Company, the one operating the present system of telephones, and Supt. A. L. Joynes, were both present, but did not bid on either franchise.

Mayor Lang stated at the conclusion that he did not think that the council could for a moment consider the $15 bid of Booth, as no franchise was ever sold in Paducah for less than $25. Mr. Booth claimed that the city was getting the best of it anyhow, and did not seem to like the mayor's attitude in the least, declaring that his company had already secured 300 subscribers who had never paid for telephones before.

When the third franchise was offered for sale there were no bidders on it, and consequently it was not sold.

The ordinance specifies that the lines granted franchises shall be in operation by the first of next June. It is probable that Mr. Booth's bid will be rejected by the council tonight, which will leave the American Telephone company, which is the one that has been trying for some time to get in here, without a franchise, after all its trouble.

The ordinance specifies that no two franchises shall be granted to one company, and while it is said that Mr. Biederman represents the same company that Mr. Booth does, it is likely that he does not, and if he does, his franchise will avail him nothing unless the council rejects the other bid.

Mayor Lang is of the opinion that the council will tonight reject both of the bids for telephone franchises, in which event it would become necessary to advertise for thirty days again. The mayor thinks that furthermore the council will advertise no more telephone franchises unless it has a guarantee in advance. It cost about double what one of the franchises brought to advertise it.

MINSTRELS.

The entire program which will be presented will no doubt prove to be a most pleasant surprise, embracing as it does a brilliant succession of timely satires. The newest of farces, absolutely novel, special numbers will be introduced and everything pertaining to a first class performance will be found with Fields & Hanson's company. In fact, it will be a positively refreshing review of modern minstrelsy.

This is a most important action of the Gas Co., and means a great saving to the people of this city. With illuminating gas at $1.50 and fuel gas at $1 per 1,000 feet, the use of gas is within the reach of every one. And when the cleanliness of a gas stove and the ease of handling it is taken into consideration, it is hard to see how a housekeeper can get along without it.

THE DOCTORS.

Meeting Today at Mayfield—Physicians Attend From Paducah.

The Association Was Organized Here Twenty-Five Years Ago.

The Southwest Kentucky Medical Association convened this morning in Mayfield, with Major Frank Boyd, of the city, presiding. There is a good attendance of doctors from the district, and an interesting program has been prepared.

Twenty-five years ago the association was organized in Paducah, and of the thirty or more charter members, only a few are alive today. Some of these are: Doctors, Elliott and Brooks, of Paducah; Howard, of Prysburg; J. D. Landrum and J. L. Dismukes, of Mayfield; Luten and Usher, of Fulton, and Beeler, of Clinton.

Drs. Stewart, secretary of the association, Thomas E. Moss, and Jr., Albert Bernheim, went down this morning, and Drs. Rivers, Brooks, and several others expect to go down this afternoon.

DR. BOYD'S SUCCESSOR.

There is some discussion going on in the Third Kentucky at Lexington regarding the vacancy in the Major Surgeon's office. One tip is that Dr. J. W. Madara, who has recently been transferred from Ft. Thomas to the John Blair Gibbs Hospital there will get the place, but officers of the regiment claim, and they should know best, that Capt. Garrett, the second assistant surgeon of the regiment, will be promoted, and that Capt. Bell, of Hopkinsville, will be made Major Surgeon.

BOOKS OF THE DAY.

The Century Company has published Dr. S. Weir Mitchell's new story, "Far in the Forest." It is a thrilling story of primitive life in the wilds of Pennsylvania two generations ago. The same company has published a series of most engaging stories by David Gray, called "Gallop." These are stories of horses and horse-loving people.

The Scribners have published "War Memories of an Army Chaplain," by H. Clay Trumbull. It is an interesting book of personal experiences by one who knew his subject well.

Colonel Henry Inman, author of "The Old Santa Fe Trail," has written "The Ranches on the Oxhide. A Story of Boys' and Girls' Life on the Frontier." It is illustrated, and published by the McMillan Company.

"John Ship, Mariner; or, By Dint of Valor," is as pretty a tale of adventure as one could wish to see. It is written by Knarf Ellvas, and published by Frederick A. Stokes company. It tells of adventures on the sea in the days which followed the sinking of the Armada. The Spanish villain is also included, and there is plenty of adventure. The same publishers have issued Benjamin Swift's much-talked-of novel, "The Destroyer."

"The Complete Works of Artemus Ward," with a biographical sketch by Eli Perkins, is published in one volume by G. W. Dillingham company. The book is attractively printed and bound, and contains many humorous sketches.

"The further Doings of the Three Bold Babies" is the title of humorous drawings by S. Rosamond Fraeger. It is published in colors, by Longmans, Green & Co. It is a book for children, and yet one which will amuse older folk because of its quaint designs and laughable incidents.

WHERE IT PATED TO BE DUNCE.

From the Syracuse Sentinel.
A good story is told on Sir Walter Scott. It seems that he was far from being a brilliant scholar, and at school he was usually at the head of the other end of the class. After he became famous he one day dropped into the old school to pay a visit to the scene of his former woes. The teacher was anxious to make a good impression on the writer and put the pupils through their lessons so as to show them to the best advantage.

After a while Scott said: "But which is the dunce? You have one, surely? Show him to me." The teacher called up a poor fellow who looked the picture of woe as he bashfully came toward the distinguished visitor.
"Are you the dunce?" asked Scott.
"Yes, sir," said the boy.
"Well, my good fellow," said Scott, "here is a crown for you for keeping my place warm."

PRINCE BISMARCK.

Why He Doesn't Play Cards—His Autographs Bring Big Prices.

I reported lately that a number of very pretty anecdotes about Prince Bismarck were current here. Unfortunately, they had only one fault, they were pure inventions. They gave the prince himself, to whom they were faithfully related, much amusement, especially those about his love of the German card game, skat, and his friendly attitude toward cycling, which were embellished with so many details that most people believed them. I know, however, for certain that Prince Bismarck has abstained from card playing these many decades past, though he used often to play whist, believing in the old adage that human passions are never more clearly revealed than at play. Some interesting little incidents of his whist playing during his diplomatic career, especially at Frankfurt, are on record. The only card games that would have a chance of delighting him now would be games of hazard, with very high stakes; but he said lately: "I am not rich enough for that, so I abstain from card playing altogether." In point of fact, the actual details of Prince Bismarck's life are so interesting that invention is superfluous in his case.

Letters written by him to Emperors William I. and Frederick were sold by auction lately by a second-hand bookseller of Berlin. One of them is dated "Berlin 18 February, 1865," and asks King William for an audience. On the same page stands the king's answer, signed with his own hand: "I shall expect you at four today. What do your colleagues think of your opinion on the Carlel question?" W. R. 19.2.65. It went for 120 marks. A letter to the crown prince, dated April 7, 1886, and containing among others the words: "In order to comply with your imperial highness' command I shall report myself at the palace at five," brought 70 marks. For a third, dated Friedrichsruh, April 21, 1878, in which Prince Bismarck complains to the crown prince of his neuralgic sufferings, but expresses the hope that they will be gone in a few days and allow him to return to Berlin, the highest bid was only 25 marks. The most interesting of the letters, from the political point of view, is that which he wrote at Nanheim on the 2d of September, 1859, to the Prussian foreign minister, Baron Schleinitz, containing, among other things, a request for several weeks' leave before entering on the duties of his new post as Prussian envoy in St. Petersburg. Then he says he should be extremely sorry not to see the prince regent (afterward William I.), who was then at Ostend, before his departure for the Russian capital, and urgently begs Baron Schleinitz to have him telegraphed for to Ostend. "To appear at Ostend unsummoned," he adds, "would look intrusive." The letter ends characteristically thus: "As I have no safe means of forwarding this letter, I resist the temptation to put political observations and reflections on paper." The letter was sold for 200 marks.—London Standard.

NOT ON SCHEDULE TIME.

But the Darky Calculated That What Goes Up Must Come Down.

They were blasting rocks near a river, and dynamite had been placed in different localities.
The family of a colored fisherman was curiously inspecting the work, though they had been warned away on numerous occasions.
One day the old woman, pipe in mouth, was standing with her two children near a barrel of dynamite, when suddenly there was a terrific explosion and the family went up with it.

The head of the family witnessed the tragedy from a distance. The next morning he approached the mayor of the town, and said:
"Ef you please, sah, I wants ter know what cemetery lots is sellin' fer in de cullud buryin' groun'?"
"Have you recovered the—the bodies?" asked the mayor sympathetically.
"No, sah, not yit," was the reply, "but I'm expectin' 'em ter come down mos' any minute!"—Atlanta Constitution.

The Origin of Scalping.

At the annual meeting of the Folk Lore society Miss Alice C. Fletcher gave an interesting contribution in a paper entitled "The Significance of the Scalp Lock; a Study of the Omaha Tribe." The Omaha Indians, like many other tribes, have peculiar ideas regarding a continuity of life and a kind of spiritual link between animate and inanimate objects. They believe a piece of any article connects them with the entirety. The hair is thought to have a close connection with life, and one possessing it may work his will upon whoever or whatever the hair belonged to. From this idea came the custom of scalping enemies.—Boston Transcript.

AN ELECTRIC MAIL BOX.

Big Buildings in Geneva Have a Useful Contrivance.

A Swiss electrician has invented an electric mail delivery box which is now in use in several of the larger buildings in Geneva. The box has a compartment for each of the stories of the building, and when letters are deposited on the ground floor the carrier delivers them as required. The deposit of a single letter makes an electric contact which starts a bell going on the respective floor, which does not cease ringing until the letter is taken out. At the same time it opens the faucet of a tank on the roof of the house, which causes water to flow into the cylinder forming the counterweight of the mail box elevator, until the weight is heavier than the box, when the box ascends, and the flow of water ceases simultaneously. As the box passes each story, the mail intended for it—letters, papers and small packages—falls into boxes in the corridor on that floor. This is performed very reliably by a little spring at the bottom of each compartment in the elevator mail box, which causes the bottom of the compartment to catch for a moment, and the release throws out even a single piece of paper thinner than a postal card from the stationary box provided for its reception. When the box has passed the uppermost floor, the cylinder filled with water strikes a bolt provided at the bottom, which allows the water to flow out, and by its own weight the box descends to its place on the ground floor. Should by any mischance a single piece of paper have remained in the elevator, upon striking the bottom it will at once go through the same series of movements as before.—Electricity.
